served. The vendor is entitled to prove to us that no or materially less damage has occurred as a result of the delay.

(6) Should we default on acceptance or payment, the vendor's entitlement to compensation for expenses shall be limited to 0.5% of the delivery value for each completed week, insofar as the default is not attributable to intent or gross negligence.

6. Transfer of risk – documents

(1) Unless otherwise agreed in writing, shipment shall be DDP according to Incoterms 2020.

(2) The vendor is obligated to state precisely on every document (order acknowledgements, shipping documents / bills of lading and invoices) the vendor number, our order number and our item number; if he fails to do this, then delays in processing are unavoidable, for which we are not responsible.

7. Examination for defects - warranty

(1) Upon receipt of the goods we shall examine them for demonstrable defects, identity, shortages and shipping damage. A complaint is timely provided it is received by the vendor within 14 working days following the delivery. The vendor waives objection to the delayed notification of defects.

(2) We shall be entitled to legal warranty claims without restriction; notwithstanding the above, we shall be entitled to demand of the vendor at our option the remediation of defects or delivery of non-defective goods. In this case, the vendor is obligated to bear all expenses required for the purpose of the remediation of defects, in particular transport, travel, labour and material costs. The right to reparation in full remains expressly reserved.

(3) Remediation of defects can be carried out by us or by third parties contracted by us without a deadline at the expense of the vendor if we have a particular interest in an immediate remedy in connection with avoiding a delay of our own or some other urgency.

(4) If we take back products produced and/or sold as a consequence of the defectiveness of the object of agreement delivered by the supplier or if valid claims are made against us because of this, then we are entitled to the lawful rights of recourse according to §§ 478/479 of the Civil Code without restriction.

(5) The period of warranty expires after 24 months from the date that the delivery item shall have been put into service by the end user, however upon the expiration of 3 years from the date of delivery to us at the latest.

(6) The vendor guarantees the all necessary administrative permits and reporting requirements in connection with the importation of goods have been met by him at his own expense.

8. Product liability

(1) If the vendor is responsible for product damage, he is obligated to exempt us from third-party claims for indemnity at the first request insofar as the cause of the loss is within his sphere of control and organization and he is liable himself in the external relationship.

(2) The vendor shall bear all costs and expenses in these cases, including the costs of a possible legal dispute or product recall.

(3) The vendor is obligated to maintain product liability insurance with an adequate limit of liability for damage to persons and property. However our claims for indemnity are not restricted to the amount of this limit of liability.

9. Product materials

(1) The supplier undertakes to supply only contract products that conform to the EU chemical regulation REACH (Regulation (EC) No. 1907/2006). The supplier will inform us immediately about relevant product changes caused by legal provisions, by REACH in particular, the capacity to supply them, their applicability or quality and consult with us as to appropriate measures on a case-by-case basis. The supplier is obligated to have all materials delivered to us that are subject to the REACH registration requirement (pre-)registered by himself or by pre-suppliers.

(2) The supplier has to satisfy the RoHS directive as per directive numbers 2011/65/EU and 2002/95/EG to its full extent. The supplier guarantees that all products are in conformity with the requirements of the RoHS directive.

(3) The supplier is obligated to keep us indemnified against all liability whatsoever relating to failure to comply with the above mentioned regulations or to compensate us for damages that accrue to us from supplier's failure to comply with the regulations or result from it.

(4) The supplier is obliged to identify the so called "Conflict Minerals" (tin, gold, tantalum, tungsten) used in his supply chain and take suitable measures to ensure that the supplied articles do not contain any conflict minerals pursuant to Section 1502 of the US American Dodd-Frank Act.

10. Trade mark rights

(1) The vendor warrants that no third-party rights shall be infringed on in connection with his delivery.

(2) If claims are made by a third party against us to that effect, then the vendor is obligated to exempt us from these claims at the first written request; we are not authorized to make any agreements with the third party - without vendor's consent - in particular to agree on a settlement.

(3) The obligation to hold harmless refers to all expenses which we necessarily incur through or in connection with the claims asserted by a third party.

11. Free issue equipment - tools - reservation of title

(1) If we place component parts at the vendor's disposal, we retain title thereto. Processing or alteration by the vendor shall be undertaken on our behalf. If the goods subject to our retention of title are processed with other items that do not belong to us, then we acquire co-ownership of the new article in proportion to the value of our article to the other processed items at the time of processing.

(2) If the article made available by us is inseparably mixed with other items that do not belong to us, then we acquire co-ownership of the new article in proportion to the value of the article subject to retention of title to the other mixed items at the time of mixing. If the mixture is performed in such a way that the vendor's article must be regarded as the primary article, then it is considered as agreed that the vendor shall transfer to us proportional co-ownership; the vendor takes charge of the sole or co-ownership on our behalf.

(3) We reserve our title to tools; the vendor is obligated to use the tools solely for the manufacture of the goods that we have ordered. If tools are produced on our behalf for the purpose of manufacturing products for us, then title to these tools is transferred to us with payment of the initial deposit invoice - even if only a partial payment is involved. The transfer of the tools in question to us is superseded by the contractor's gratuitous duty of custody and care as per agreement.

(4) Upon demand, the tools must be surrendered to the purchaser with the waiver of any right of lien or retention.

(5) The vendor is obligated to insure the tools belonging to us at replacement value against fire damage, water damage and theft at his own expense. He is obligated to perform any necessary maintenance and inspection work at its own expense in a timely manner. He shall immediately inform us of any malfunctions; in the event of non-compliance with this requirement, we reserve the right to claim damages.
